MIB Group Names DiAngelo, Oliphant, Barnes to New Executive Positions

WESTWOOD, Mass. (October 11, 2006) James F. Cook, President and CEO of MIB Group, Inc. has announced the realignment of responsibilities for several key executives. Robert L. DiAngelo will serve as Executive Vice President of MIB Group and head its subsidiary MIB, Inc. Lee B. Oliphant will serve as Executive Vice President of MIB Group and head its subsidiary, MIB Solutions, Inc. (formerly e-Services Corporation). Linda Barnes, Controller, will become the Chief Financial Officer of MIB Group. These appointments are effective immediately.

“These moves are part of a reorganization that will help us serve our members even more effectively while we continue to develop new products to meet the changing needs of our industry,” Cook said. “Bob and Lee each have the requisite experience, expertise and leadership skills as we move forward and Linda’s extensive financial background insures the company of continued strength in finance.”

DiAngelo’s most recent assignment was Vice President and Chief Information Officer of MIB Group. During his tenure as Chief Information Officer, Mr. DiAngelo directed the strategic reengineering of MIB’s core technology, including the adoption of the industry standard ACORD model for business-to-business communication with customers.
